

SAFER TOGETHER

The Child Health Patient Safety Organization® is a federally protected network of children's hospitals working together to make health care safer for kids.

As the only PSO in the U.S. focused solely on children, we've spent nearly two decades helping pediatric hospitals transform individual safety events into collective progress. Within our confidential environment, members share real cases, surface emerging risks, and build safer systems of care.

Our members get:

- Weekly risk identification calls for early and urgent warnings
- Monthly, in-depth case learning sessions with transparent discussions
- Aggregated safety event analysis based on 700+ annual peer reports
- Deep repository of hospital action plans scored by IHI's Action Hierarchy
- One-on-one coaching and consultation from pediatric experts
- Close-knit, highly engaged learning community of like-minded pediatric peers
- Access to the most comprehensive pediatric-exclusive safety event dataset
- Actionable resources that lead to improvements

Kids only

Because our members are exclusively children's hospitals, they explore issues unique to pediatric care, learn best practices from actual peer hospitals, and collaborate on safety efforts with those who understand the realities and complexities of caring for children.

Community of peers

In our PSO, staff and participants all know one another by name. Engagement levels are among the highest in the industry. You get genuine discussions with colleagues, active collaboration from people facing similar challenges, and questions answered personally.

Actionable data

Experts from our team, who are also pediatric clinicians, aggregate and analyze thousands of case submissions to surface emerging signals, uncover timely trends, identify root causes, and deliver insights that can't be gained in other contexts.

Leading in Safety-II

We help children's hospitals move beyond reactive harm response toward proactive design and system resilience. By examining how care succeeds under real-world conditions, members anticipate hazards and sustain safe care under everyday pressures.
